

10 TERRIFYING CYBERSECURITY STATISTICS MANUFACTURERS CAN'T IGNORE

Vampires and ghosts come out during Halloween, but cyber criminals lurk year-round.
Check out these terrifying statistics to see how the manufacturing industry is impacted by cyberattacks.

Manufacturing companies account for nearly a quarter of all ransomware attacks in the United States (23%).¹

The average cost of recovery from a ransomware attack is nearly $2 million.²

$17,700 is lost every minute due to a phishing attack.³

57% of organizations see weekly or daily phishing attempts.⁴

Organizations up to 250 employees have the highest targeted malicious email rate at 1 in 323.⁵

90% of organizations in the manufacturing sector had at least one cyber incident in 2021, while 63% had three or more incidents.⁶

Only 59% of manufacturers have a well-defined plan to handle cyber incidents.⁷

47% of attacks on manufacturers are caused by software vulnerabilities.⁸

Malware is used in 62% of supply chain attacks.⁹

75% of cyber incidents originate from within an organization.¹⁰

BACK TO BUSINESS
POWERED BY  THE GREENTREE GROUP

Sources: 1Security Intelligence, 2Sophos, 3CSO Online, 4GreatHorn, 5Symantec, 6Fortinet, 7Infosys, 8IBM, 9European Union Agency for Cybersecurity, 10CONTROLTEK